Strengthening Basic Education as Foundation for Higher Education against the Framework of ASEAN Integration

RATIONALE

The integration of ASEAN countries in 2015 has prompted each member country to align its curricula to prevailing international standards. Striving, evaluating curricula for alignment has catapulted educational institutions to initiate and strengthen teaching and learning development programs, development of teaching-learning materials, construction of learning outcomes assessment instruments and retooling professional educational teaching programs. All of these came as logical consequential offshoots of the prevailing restructuring of the educational landscape in the Philippines with the recent implementation of the K-12 program.

OBJECTIVES

1. Expound on the alignment of the K-12 curriculum with the ASEAN Frameworks
2. Weave strategies for teaching and learning across subject areas/disciplines
3. Formulate guidelines to assess learning outcomes in light of ASEAN goals
4. Identify and evaluate student capabilities and achievements
5. Address innovation and development of faculty, non-teaching administrators, managers of education
6. Review and formulate policies and guidelines for professional educators for the internationalization of educational standards
7. Address the participation of all vulnerable sectors to remove all barriers to learning
