Dear High School Head / High School Superintendent:

Greetings of peace and joy!

The University of the Philippines at Los Baños Chemical Kinetics Society (UPLB Chemokinesis) is a duly recognized academic organization in the university. One of the organization's objectives is to contribute to the development of the Philippine society in general through the application of chemistry and other related fields.

The organization will be conducting a Symposium on 26 March 2021, 1:00 - 3:30 PM via Zoom with the theme, "Centerstage: Shedding Light on the Importance and Value of Water to the Filipino People." This is in line with the United Nations' observance of World Water Day, which is celebrated in March. The event highlights the importance of water and freshwater resources to the high school students of Region IV-A, among others.

Following this, we would like to humbly request for your promotion on this event to different high schools in your region. Also, information regarding the contact details of the schools and school heads are highly appreciated.

Attached herewith are the contact details of the event heads. You are welcome to contact us should you have any queries regarding the endeavor.
