JTC-Schools Division Superintendent

Dear _____:

Greetings!

The Philippine Academy of Physicians in School Health, Inc. (PAPSHI), a nationwide association of physicians that advocates excellence in the practice of School Health, will be holding its 22nd Annual National Convention with the theme, "Ikaw, Ako, Tayo Magkakalibang Nagkakaisa sa Hamon ng Pagbabago sa Kalusugang Pampaaralan (Together United in Diversity in Facing the Challenges of Change in School Health)", on May 24-27, 2022 via Zoom and Facebook Live.

The presence of different school settings, a conglomerate of school health personnel, and various sources of resources diversifies establishment and implementation of the school health program. With the ordeal of the present health crisis and its ensuing reverberation to the education system, solidarity in pursuing and maintaining a healthy school community is inevitable. Thus, this convention aims to present and develop approaches in health and wellness promotion for students, staff, and community through School Health with the changes and challenges in the present education system. Specifically, it focuses on

1. Identifying challenges in the school health program due to changes in the education system;
2. Presenting systems in promoting health and wellness in schools in terms of strategies, inclusive learning, and delivery of school health;
3. Providing updates on the COVID-19 pandemic, Universal Healthcare, and research in relation to school health; and
4. Recommending plans and responses to accidents, disasters, emergencies, and related occurrences in schools that endanger and compromise the community's health.

Hence, we are inviting administrators, physicians, nurses, dentists and other school health personnel and professionals to participate in this endeavor.

For further inquiries, please call or SMS any of the following numbers: 0998 554 3834 (Dr. Cervantes); 09396442355 / 09321752321 / 09162344430 (Dr. Ceralvo); 09199054148 (Dr. Bejasa).
