Our Resource Speaker

Mr. Amado (Jun) Malacaman, Jr.IT Management and Data Privacy Consultant*

Few professionals can match Jun Malacaman's pedigree at the intersection of data privacy, cybersecurity, and executive level IT leadership. As former President of the Information Systems Security Society of the Philippines (ISSSP), he helped shape national standards that still guide today's privacy landscape. When the Data Privacy Act began full enforcement in 2017, Jun was already ahead of the curve — advising regulators, speaking at policy forums, and translating legal mandates into practical roadmaps for business leaders.

Over the last seven years, Jun has personally trained 700 plus privacy practitioners and steered dozens of medium to large enterprises from "unsure where to start" to "audit ready." His four decade career — spanning roles from programmer to CIO—means he speaks the language of every stakeholder, from frontline IT staff to C suite decision makers. That breadth of experience lets him surface risks others miss and craft solutions that survive real world budget, culture, and technology constraints.

What sets Jun apart as a facilitator is his signature, workshop style approach. He turns the Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) into a discovery driven exercise that engages participants rather than overwhelms them, then guides teams in building a living, breathing Privacy Management Program (PMP) that dovetails with DPA 2012 and ISO 27001 and the National Privacy Commission's 5 Pillar "proof of compliance." Expect interactive breakouts, hot seat consultations, and immediately usable templates — no passive, slide deck presentations.

In short, Mr. Malacaman doesn't just teach compliance; he operationalizes it. If you're looking for a mentor who can convert regulatory pressure into strategic advantage — and give you the tools, confidence, and executive narrative to do the same—there is no better guide than our consultant and facilitator for this Data Privacy MasterClass.
