5th SOUTHERN LUZON MODEL UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE 2025

The University of the Philippines Model United Nations (UPMUN) will hold the 5th Southern Luzon Model United Nations Conference (SLMUNC 2025) at UP Los Baños, Laguna, on October 24–26, 2025.

With the theme, The Edge Effects in Diplomacy: Developing New Corridors for Sustainability, the Conference aims to promote diplomacy as both an art and a practice essential to addressing global challenges, from climate change to social inequities.

SLMUNC reinforces the role of dialogue and negotiation in mobilizing diverse stakeholders for societal impact. It seeks to integrate diplomacy across academic, scientific, and practical disciplines within UPLB and Southern Luzon institutions, promoting courses in International Relations, Environmental Diplomacy, and Global Politics to foster interdisciplinary collaboration

A key objective is expanding Model UN accessibility to public schools, underprivileged communities, alumni, and various academic levels, ensuring that training in diplomatic procedures and resolution drafting is available beyond traditional university settings. The conference structure includes committee sessions, skill-building workshops, and simulation exercises that emphasize ethical conduct, cultural sensitivity, and real-world application of diplomatic principles.

Students and professionals from across the Philippines are expected to attend. For more details and registration, visit the official SLMUNC 2025 Facebook Page: facebook.com/SLMUNC.
